The Failure of all their Dam Plans

By Viv Forbes, Executive Director, The Saltbush Club

“Malcolm Turnbull’s Murray Darling Basin plan has failed and must be abolished.

“We need to change the way we manage what is our most abundant renewable resource, and the only obstacle to this is politics.

“The immediate action must be to stop wasting water on “environmental flows” that are doing more harm than good. Then we need to build more dams and weirs; and restore natural flushing to the mouth of the Murray.

“If we do these things, there will be plenty of water for all MD basin needs and the environment will benefit hugely (in stark contrast to the scorched earth policy currently in play).”

“Federal government meddling in state matters has made a huge mess of the supply and management of water and electricity. The way out of these messes is to reverse the way we got in.”

Below is a graphic description of the problems caused by bumbling politicians, some of whom do not even mean well for Basin residents:

Please pass this on as widely as possible. Or use as a basis for your own articles.

The future of Australia’s greatest food bowl is at stake and action is now urgently needed.

The Golden Fleece Award

It is time to resurrect the Golden Fleece Award:

Can we have suggestions please for the Saltbush Golden Fleece Award. Keep them short, well written, interesting and well researched with links.

How is Global Warming working out for you?

It was minus 0.4⁰C on our back patio in the Sunshine State this morning. Have a look at how global warming is faring in the rest of the world:

<https://www.iceagenow.info/>

The warming alarmists will get more shrill and more desperate as the climate refuses to dance to their tune. So they are recruiting school kids, Hollywood stars, business tycoons, local governments, social media, government broadcasters and their millions of paid hacks to shout their message and hide and suppress alternative messages.

“If a million people say a foolish thing, it is still a foolish thing.”

Four things will turn the tide:

- When the lights go out because of massive failure of green energy policies.
- When the evidence of a cooling globe becomes obvious.
- When there is no water in the taps because of stupid water policies.
- Food panics when global cooling and/or water shortages reduce food production

Keep up the fight. People must be kept aware that nature drives climate change and humans must be prepared to adapt quickly to whatever happens.
