

Shortly after retiring from the Police Department and at great personal expense, Ralph, acting as his own attorney, proceeded through the New York State Supreme, Appellate and finally appeared before the seven-member Court of Appeals where he attempted for almost five years in all of those courts to expose the continuing theft of public money by the highest officials of the Legislature, Executive and Judicial Departments of government. Ralph charged the payment of pensions and other monies to elected officials was in violation of the NY State Constitution. Ralph has been an ardent student of the NY State and Federal Constitutions for fifty years.

In between his lengthy five-year State Court appearances, Ralph also publicly exposed corruption in the office of two Presidents. More importantly he exposed the utter lack of accountability by the US Congress in its failure to impeach, convict and remove many corrupt public officials brought to its attention by Ralph.

To top it all, he ably demonstrated to the American people on many occasions the mis, mal, and non feasance by the Justices of the US Supreme Court.

With your help and cooperation, Ralph is now ready to serve all the people in exposing those who corrupt the system. He presents his book to show the average citizen that it is relatively easy to assert leadership and take back our government without even seeking public office. In fact, Ralph demonstrates in his book due to a failure to maintain a separation of powers it is almost impossible for those within the system to bring about real reforms.
