

If anyone of you ever sees a serious crime being committed, do you believe you should report it to the proper authority? The answer should be yes. If you don't - you are guilty of a crime. For over fifty years, I have been reporting crimes and wrongdoing by federal, state and local officials. To my dismay, I found that public officials of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of governments, instead of taking action to see that justice was done, remained silent or helped the wrongdoers to cover up.

Since most public officials have been allowed to freely commit crimes or help in covering up, I am now directing my major efforts to informing people not only of official criminality but also how it first started 200 years ago in the Convention in Philadelphia.

A government should not be allowed to establish its own schools so it can enlarge upon its own strength by misinforming people about its true history. A free society should build its own schools and enlarge on the true principles of life. If, as the Preamble states, ours was to be a government of the people, why then are lawyers in complete charge of all three departments of government - Federal, State and local?

When you and many others read The Constitution That Never Was, you will discover that in taking the Constitutional oath of office our elected and appointed officials are promising to continue with their ongoing criminality. There are 260 million people who must oppose the 800,000 lawyers who are abusing us. We will win once a million of us becomes better informed.
