

The Ultimate War: Globalism vs. America

1. The War: Globalism vs. America

I grew up in Orange County. When I was 10 Nikita Khrushchev visited Disneyland and said “We will bury you (America) without firing a shot”. Later in the year (1959) he repeated this statement at the United Nations while slamming his shoe on the table. I thought he was nuts!

Yet today America is falling. We have not experienced a military invasion. Why are we falling? What is that Khrushchev knew that Americans have not yet figured out or acknowledged?

Private property is under attack. Americans no longer feel confident that government secures the protection of their property. Instead, policies are being implemented, through our American government, which actually attack the idea of private property. Globalist philosophy has swarmed all branches and all levels of American government. Is there a connection between globalism and the loss of our rights?

Our leaders who are working for their own seat at the international table have convoluted the interpretation of the American Constitution. At the core, these Globalists seek to negate the political recognition of an individual's unalienable rights – one's natural right to life, liberty and property.

There is a massive fifth column operating throughout our government, supported by a huge and well funded network of Non Governmental Organizations (NGOs) that work to localize the global movement. NGO's are organizations which are accredited by the United Nations for purposes of implementing the globalist Action plan labeled "Agenda 21 Sustainable Development". Remember the expression "Think Globally; Act Locally"?

Today, whether you know it or not, you are within a Wildlands Network zone. This explains why Montanans standards of living are slipping. Your elected officials make this possible by accepting supposed globalist consensus.

Wildlife Corridors and Landscape Connectivity

American Wildlands' Corridors of Life program focuses on keeping large, protected areas of wildlife habitat, like national parks and forests, connected throughout the U.S. Northern Rockies. Our work helps restore and maintain wildlife movement corridors between these protected lands for the benefit of all wildlife.

Within the U.S. Rockies, development and public lands management increasingly fragment critical wildlife habitat. This fragmentation makes it difficult for wild animals to roam, forage and breed.

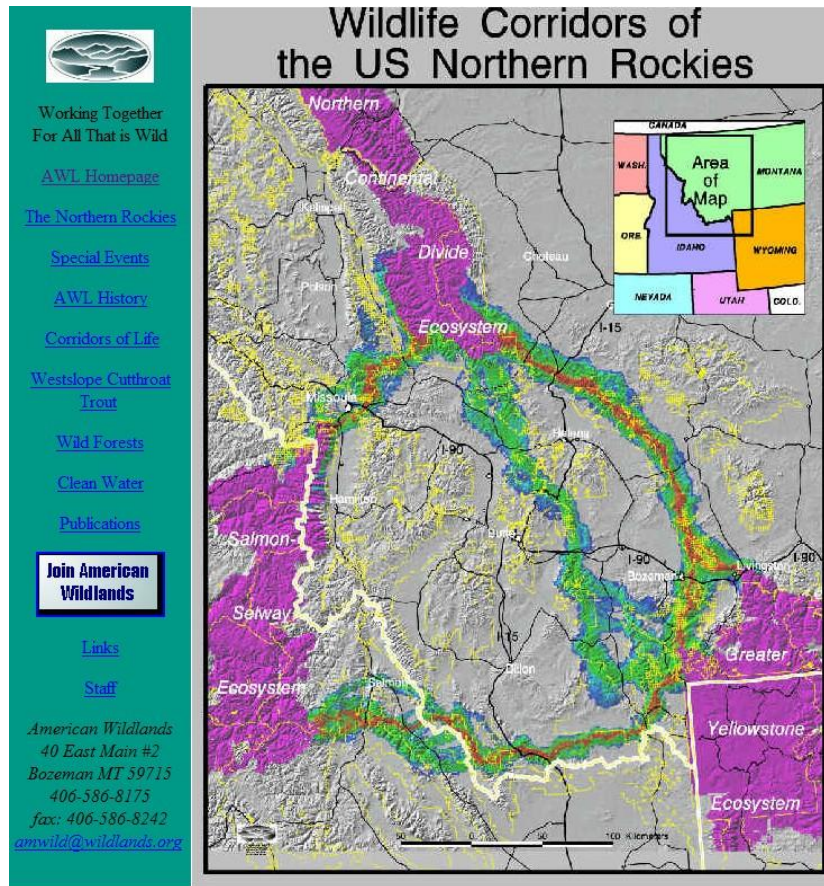

Man-made structures, like fences, highways and housing subdivisions, can impede the normal movement patterns of wildlife. For many animals, development has made the landscape a hostile place by virtually eliminating their ability to move between core habitats. A frequent result is that wild animals become isolated and unable to find food or mates.

National parks, refuges, forests and other protected landscapes—while critically important—have created a series of 'habitat islands.' Limiting conservation to these large blocks of land is not enough to sustain viable, genetically healthy populations of wildlife. From elk to grizzly, wild animals require a unique combination of environmental conditions to survive and thrive. They must be able to move safely between large tracts of habitat.

The American Wildlands may look benign but what you will discover are vast corridors between them are designed to take control of the land and power over you.

As you will see later these corridors are throughout the country. They will widen in time.

What I am going to do today is to define and illustrate how globalism works to subsume the foundation of the American experiment. This submission is planned to occur through a global to Local Action Plan referred to as Agenda 21. Later, I will give illustrations of how the United Nations' Agenda 21 has invaded the Bitterroot valley and Montana generally. I will conclude by suggesting what it is that you can do to expose and ultimately reverse this anti-American curse that is swarming Montana, the Northwest, and the entire country.

The Globalist attack:

- i. The battlefield of the modern World War is over the political recognition of unalienable rights. For example, judicial recognition and protection of the right to the use and enjoyment of property has been largely abandoned.

Prohibitive zoning, open space mandates, resource extraction limitations and use prohibitions coupled with enforcement provisions of such things as the Endangered Species Act are designed to chip away at the idea of private property. The ESA often nullifies a land owner's natural right to the beneficial use of property. The courts have enabled massive legislative takings of property use.

America cannot stand - if the idea of private property is not protected. As G. Washington said, "Private property and freedom are inseparable".

The United Nations and the Globalists' position on individual land ownership are clear: Land is to be held or controlled by government not individuals.

- ii. There is an organized Globalist assault on the individual and upon the system of government that supports individual rights. Global organizations such as the World Bank and the World Trade Organization have taken control over our nation's trade policy.

Multinational corporations work with global political organizations to establish a unified global economic system of distribution that works to implement the stated goal set forth in the Earth Charter. That goal is: "to equalize wealth within and between nations". Can a nation remain sovereign if it has bequeathed its trade policy to foreign entities, in the name of globalism?

Why has individual liberty and national sovereignty steadily eroded? One reason is because both parties have supported nationalized education policies that increasingly have indoctrinated youth into accepting “global citizenship”.

Until recently, most Americans thought we could simply “throw the bums out’ when the federal government got off track and elect the other party. But that is not working.

Both parties have spent America to the verge of dollar oblivion; they both support essential tenants of Globalism; meaning they both support the United Nation’s action plan for world government known as “Agenda 21”, the Agenda for the 21st century. Agenda 21 is also known as “Sustainable Development” which uses the environmental protection as its excuse for transforming our systems of government and economics.

2. What is Agenda 21?

- a. Agenda 21 is a document that outlines the implementation of Sustainable Development, which is a comprehensive plan for the restructure of society and the remake of man. After nearly 20 years of implementation, I can report that Sustainable Development policy is now pursued in every county in the country!

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window displaying the United Nations Sustainable Development - Agenda 21 website. The address bar shows the URL: <http://www.un.org/esa/sustdev/agenda21.htm>. The website header includes the United Nations logo and the text "United Nations Sustainable Development Agenda 21". Navigation links include "UN Home", "ESA Home", "Search", "Home", "Agenda21", "CSD", "Small Islands", "Forests", "National Info", "Major Groups", "Technical Coop", and "Issues".

Agenda 21 is a comprehensive plan of action to be taken globally, nationally and locally by organizations of the United Nations System, Governments, and Major Groups in every area in which human impacts on the environment.

Agenda 21, the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development, and the Statement of principles for the Sustainable Management of Forests were adopted by more than 178 Governments at the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development (UNCED) held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, 3 to 14 June 1992.

The Commission on Sustainable Development (CSD) was created in December 1992 to ensure effective follow-up of UNCED, to monitor and report on implementation of the agreements at the local, national, regional and international levels. It was agreed that a five year review of Earth Summit progress would be made in 1997 by the United Nations General Assembly meeting in special session.

The 55th General Assembly session decided in December 2000 that the CSD would serve as the central organizing body for the 2002 World Summit on Sustainable Development, which will be held in Johannesburg, South Africa.

- b. Agenda 21, Sustainable Development is the modern battle field over future political-economics and more

- i. Despite its appearance as an environmental movement, Agenda 21 incorporates decades of U.N. world governance policies. Agenda 21 was arranged for and disseminated at the Rio de Janeiro UN Earth Summit in 1992.
- ii. 178 nations signed on including George Bush, the first, for the US.
- iii. The last 4 presidents have made implementation of Agenda 21 the quiet cornerstone of their administrations.
- iv. The Department of State reports to the UN our progress at implementation

c. Sustainable Development is an Action plan for the implementation of a controlled society.

i. The Plan is not conjecture. It is laid out in three documents.

1. Agenda 21: the global plan. This is my County's plan - the Santa Cruz County "local" version of Agenda 21. (props) In Montana, the focus is on the implementation of the Wildlands Network. What are Wildlands? Explain.

2. The Global Biodiversity Assessment Report (1300 pages). This document calls for a reduction of human population to 1 billion people. In the alternative, a population comprised of "peasants" may be designed that would allow, according to the U.N. 4 – 5 billion people.

3. The Earth Charter – Authored by Steven Rockefeller, Maurice Strong and Mikhail Gorbachev. They have all said that Earth Charter is to replace the 10 commandments.

Do you suppose these three characters climbed a mountain and had the Earth Charter delivered to them by God?

I'm going to share a Freedom Advocates tool for showing the 'warm and fuzzy' terms that arise regularly. These terms reveal Agenda 21 operating in your neighborhood!

b. Defining and describing Sustainable Development:

- i. The first time the term ‘Sustainable Development’ was used was by Woodrow Wilson while he was President. There is no loss of irony that the man who brought us the Federal Reserve, the income tax, the League of Nations and the war to end all wars would introduce to America the concept, which today, is a synonym for world governance.

The 20th century saw a continuum of action designed to lead us to where we are. From the formation of the UN and the internationalist organizations like the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, the Bank of International Settlements an infrastructure for world government has been established. We are now within the grasp of global governance. Today, this is euphemistically referred to as “change”. Obama may seek to discharge the final nail.

- ii. Values of Agenda 21: Supporters of Agenda 21 use a mantra reflected by the “three E” pattern:
1. The three E’s represent a summarization of Agenda 21’s objectives.

The often repeated three E concept works like this:

The 3 E's of Sustainable Development

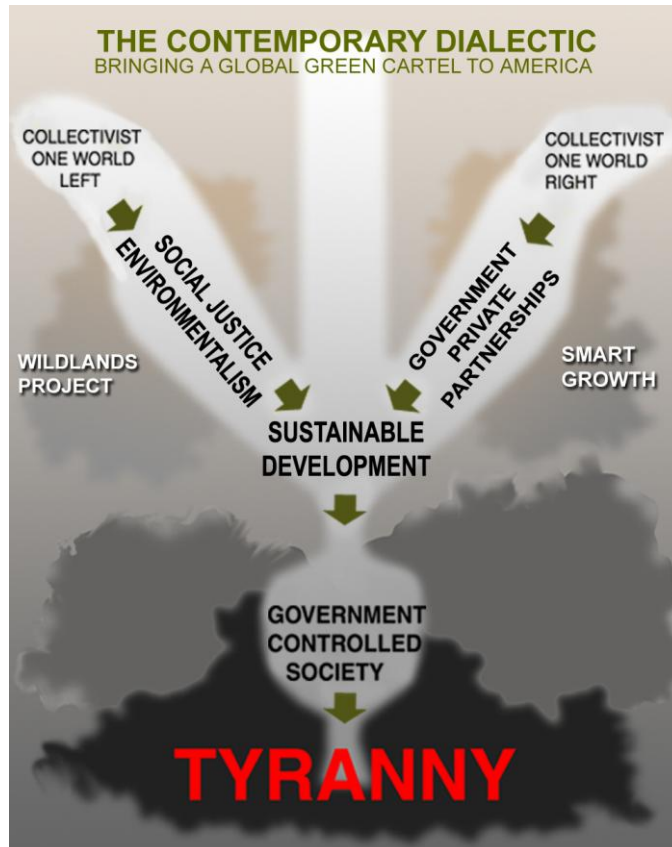

- Environment
 - Nature before man
- Equity
 - Use sociology and the law to reengineer humanity
- Economy
 - International redistribution of America's wealth
 - Replacement of free enterprise with government/business partnerships

This website is a prototype local sustainability business coordinator. The organization exists in order to find the partners that will serve the local creation of world governance.

Often, attractive banners expressing the 3 E's grace an insider's web pages.

Note the classic three E formulation in this website.

2. It is important to understand Agenda 21 is not a left vs. right fight.

The left and the right leadership work in what I call an 'artificial dialectic'. An artificial dialectic is where an arranged thesis is contrasted with an arranged antithesis in order to produce a predetermined synthesis.

Provide brief description of Wildlands and Smart Growth

Implementation of Agenda 21 comes through bi-partisanship;

Our need is to understand how both sides of the political spectrum contribute to Globalist Action Plan.

We need to really see on how this happens in order to be able to focus our defense of freedom.

Principles

Declaration of Principles agreed by IDU founders, London 1983.

HAVING REGARD to their common convictions that democratic societies provide individuals throughout the world with the best conditions for political liberty, personal freedom, equality of opportunity and economic development under the rule of law; and therefore BEING COMMITTED to advancing the social and political values on which democratic societies are founded, including the basic personal freedoms and human rights, as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights; and

HAVING REGARD to their common beliefs in an open society, where power is dispersed widely amongst free institutions, dedicated to creating conditions that will enable each individual to reach his full potential and to carry out his responsibilities to his fellow man; and where the central task of government is to serve the individual and to safeguard and promote individual freedom; and equally

STRESSING the moral commitments of a free and open society, supporting the institution of the family as its fundamental social and cohesive force, as well as social responsibility towards the weak and less fortunate, particularly by encouraging self-help and individual enterprise and choice in the provision of services;

BEING DEDICATED to a society of individuals working together in partnership for the common good;

HAVING REGARD to their common views that political democracy and private property are inseparable components of individual liberty and that the socially-oriented market economy provides the best means of creating the wealth and material prosperity to meet the legitimate aspirations of individuals, and of tackling social evils such as unemployment and inflation;

BELIEVING that this is the most effective and beneficial way of providing individual initiative and enterprise, responsible economic development, employment opportunities, low taxation and consumer choice;

REJECTING any form of totalitarianism, which brings so much suffering and restricts so many freedoms today;

HAVING REGARD to the important global tasks which render necessary and desirable a closer and efficient collaboration of their parties, inspired by their common conviction;

PLEDGING THEMSELVES to work towards ever-closer co-operation among all the peoples of democratic nations, while recognising the right of each individual nation to preserve its identity and to safeguard its vital interests, to use their influence and above all their political values for the greater good of the world, especially by promoting the mutual responsibilities of all nations for global economic development;

DECLARE their dedication to a just and lasting peace and freedom throughout the world; and

FURTHER DECLARE that the cause of peace will be advanced by adherence to the principles expressed in this Declaration; and in

ACTIVELY INVITING other parties to subscribe to them;

AGREE to create a working association in pursuance of their common beliefs, hereinafter referred to as the INTERNATIONAL DEMOCRAT UNION.

IDU: GOP leadership role; explain what IDU is;
then quote the IDU “Principles” page as follows:
“Being committed to advancing the social and political values on which democratic societies are founded, including the basic personal freedoms and human rights as defined in the “Universal Declaration of Human Rights.”

The Democrat party has been even longer committed to this idea.

3. That brings us into the philosophy of rights that we can live with.

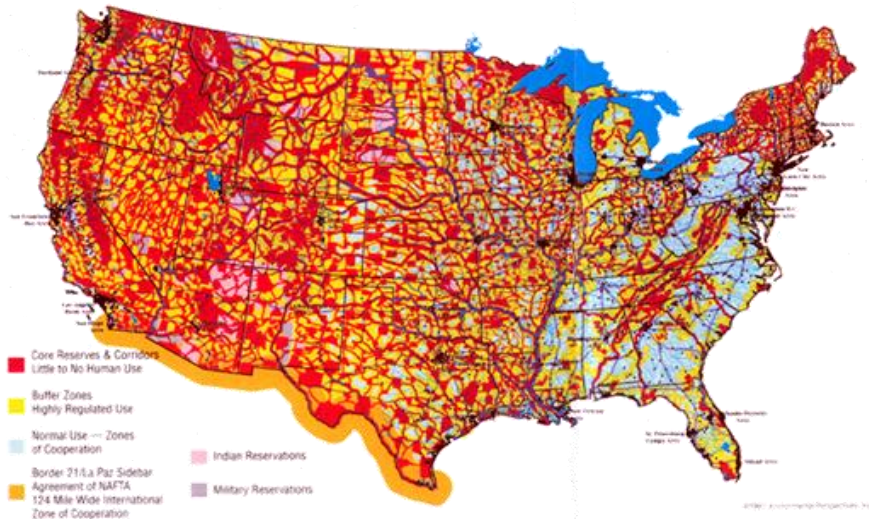

WHICH PHILOSOPHY OF RIGHTS?

Nature Source	Individual Rights US Declaration of Independence	Community rights UN Declaration of Human Rights
Purpose of Government	Protect the natural or unalienable rights of each individual. “That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights ...”	Control the individual for the greater good of a global community. “Rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations...”
In short	You’re born with rights, government exists to protect them. You and the product of your labor belong to you.	Government grants, restricts, or withdraws your rights according to its needs. You and the product of your labor belong to the community.

4. There are three broad principles that underlie Agenda 21:

1. The step by step program for the abolition of private property
2. Education for global citizenship. Do you think the notion of unalienable rights is presented in today's schools? And then there is No Child Left Behind...
3. Control over human action: For instance, we see this through federal legislation that would direct biometric identification of you displayed on your state driver's license, the advent of cameras everywhere, and government accessible data bases that hold everything about you that you now think is private.

Biodiversity and Wildlands Project - USA

I will focus my comments on the effort to abolish private property, concerning land. First, what is private property?

Private property; includes your person, your thoughts and your relationship to some thing. By relationship I mean the power to use and enjoy that thing.

Truly Private Property only exists where unalienable rights are recognized. America is the only place where, only if for a brief shining moment, unalienable rights have been politically recognized. Tomorrow they may be abolished.

Agenda 21 has two land use programs. They are called Smart Growth and the Wildlands Network. Let me explain them with the help of this map....

Wildlands: removal of people and prohibition of resource extraction

Smart Growth: Stacking and packing human beings in dense cities where people will depend on public transportation,

The Yukon to the Yucatan is a continental example that provides a backbone to the Wildlands system which exists throughout the US.

People in Washington temporarily blocked state government backed transnational “Wildland” designation as part of the ‘Yukon to Yucatan’ Wildlands Network. The Y to Y corridor stretches the length of this continent. Landowners in this area are being pulverized.

Proposed legislation to fully incorporate the Y to Y goals has failed to pass in Washington State thanks to the initiative of some informed Washington State people.

But concept is far from dead. In fact piecemeal implementation continues. Let’s return to examine a local example of the Y to Y implementation here in the Bitterroot Valley.

Welcome to American Wildlands

Our mission is to leverage our science leadership through partnerships to link vital wildlife habitat within the U.S. Northern Rockies.

Since 1978, we have been using science, advocacy and community engagement to pursue a regional landscape of interconnected habitats with healthy populations of Rocky Mountain wildlife. The focus of our work—identifying and conserving critical wildlife movement corridors and habitat connectivity—is grounded in conservation biology and road ecology.

Based in Bozeman, Montana, our staff puts our mission into action through our Corridors of Life, Safe Passages and Community GIS Services programs. Working in partnership with conservation organizations, state and federal agencies, county planners, citizen groups and private landowners, we are creating an environment for wildlife to survive and thrive in the U.S. Northern Rockies.

Here is a prime organization that I described earlier. The American Wildland network is now focused on bringing the globalist Wildland Network to the Bitterroot. The designation of Wildland abolishes private property. And the fraud marches forward.

I have been told that Montana's average annual earnings have dropped from 6th in the nation to 49th. Look at organizations like the NGO American Wildlands Network to understand why.

The globalist political –economic onslaught happening inside America has been because Montana's resource base has been grabbed-up and locked-down.

The American Wildlands is an NGO. Dr Michael Coffman has said that “According to hundreds of NGO documents what is happening in the Northern Rockies will eventually happen across America”.

Wildlife Corridors of the US Northern Rockies

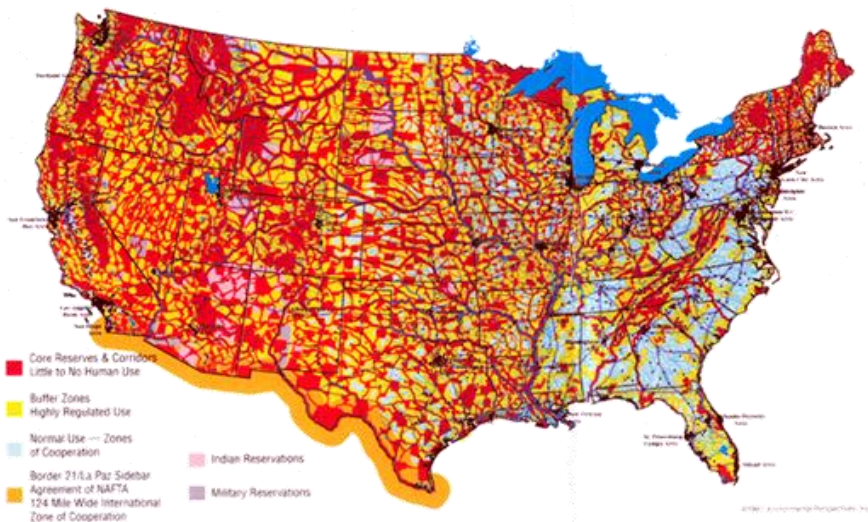

The map displays several wildlife corridors and ecosystems in the Northern Rockies region. Key features include:

- Continental Divide Ecosystem: A large, central corridor running north-south.
- Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem: A large, eastern corridor.
- Salmon-Seway Ecosystem: A western corridor.
- Northern: A northern corridor.
- Chico: A small corridor in the north.
- Bozeman: A small corridor in the east.

The map also shows major highways (I-15, I-90, I-75) and cities (Bozeman, Helena, Missoula, Butte, Billings, Great Falls, Glacier House, Helena, Bozeman, Butte, Billings, Great Falls, Glacier House). An inset map shows the "Area of Map" within the context of the surrounding states: WASH., MONTANA, IDAHO, WYOMING, NEVADA, UTAH, and COLO. A scale bar indicates 100 kilometers.

You can bet this corridor map is destined to become more colorful.

Wildlife Corridors and Landscape Connectivity

American Wildlands' Corridors of Life program focuses on keeping large, protected areas of wildlife habitat, like national parks and forests, connected throughout the U.S. Northern Rockies. Our work helps restore and maintain wildlife movement corridors between these protected lands for the benefit of all wildlife.

Within the U.S. Rockies, development and public lands management increasingly fragment critical wildlife habitat. This fragmentation makes it difficult for wild animals to roam, forage and breed.

Man-made structures, like fences, highways and housing subdivisions, can impede the normal movement patterns of wildlife. For many animals, development has made the landscape a hostile place by virtually eliminating their ability to move between core habitats. A frequent result is that wild animals become isolated and unable to find food or mates.

National parks, refuges, forests and other protected landscapes—while critically important—have created a series of 'habitat islands.' Limiting conservation to these large blocks of land is not enough to sustain viable, genetically healthy populations of wildlife. From elk to grizzly, wild animals require a unique combination of environmental conditions to survive and thrive. They must be able to move safely between large tracts of habitat.

Read and describe the effect of corridors on private property, society and economics. You can investigate the American Willands.org further! The American Wildlands is based in Bozeman.

You can investigate further!

Modern American government tramples the Constitution while ushering world governance as it gains greater control over the American land mass.

The Wildlands Network is a violation of Article 1 (Legislative Branch) Sec 8 (legislative powers) of the US Constitution:

How does the federal government end up owning much of Montana's land mass – While managing most of the rest! The Department of the Interior – how did that monster arise? What is the Constitutional rationale? There is none.

There is no Constitutional authority for Congressional land management. Constitutional authority for land ownership, is set out in Article 1 Section 8: Congress has: "...Authority over all places purchased by consent of the legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards and other needful buildings."

There is no authorization for the various federal forest ownership or contemporary Wildlands bills that have been processed by Congress. Tester's Forest Jobs a Recreation Act bill is a clear example of how lands are being taken in a power grab to meet Globalist objectives.

Who is Congress working for? Who is Tester working for? Why is he testing Americans?

Remember government powers are granted under the Constitution— they cannot just be taken by a narrow mob, with political front men, seeking power and control over resources.

A second major attack on the Constitution is the Congress's delegation of its responsibility over trade policy.

Congress has delegated authority over U.S. trade policy to the World Trade Organization and to various multi lateral trade pact organizations. This necessarily comes at the expense of sovereignty. The effects of surrendering trade policy control include:

- A disintegrating border; Example: NAFTA agreement – 124 mile wide “International Zone of Cooperation”
- Constitutional taxing authority (Article 1 Section 9) becomes neutered. The Constitutionally intended form of taxation – import and excise duties are lost to the World Trade Organization’s so called “free trade” requirements. It is not free trade that is being established; it is a managed global trade control exercised over America. This policy is designed to economically equalize nations in accordance with Earth Charter mandate to equalize wealth within and between nations. Managed Free Trade is designed to implement the Agenda 21 directive to effectively institutionalize multinational corporate economic control in partnership with world government agencies and directives.

More directly, the surrender of trade policy is designed to neuter American sovereignty.

The modern trade regime results in manufacturing jobs loss starting with a shuttling of resource extraction. The consequence has been: production leaves the US; finish goods are then imported, often from slave labor nations, always concentrating wealth into the hands of global business partners of prospective world government. Prince Charles established the Sustainable Business Council with major multinational businesses. Globalist corporate coordination has occurred.

The Sustainable problem is more than green.

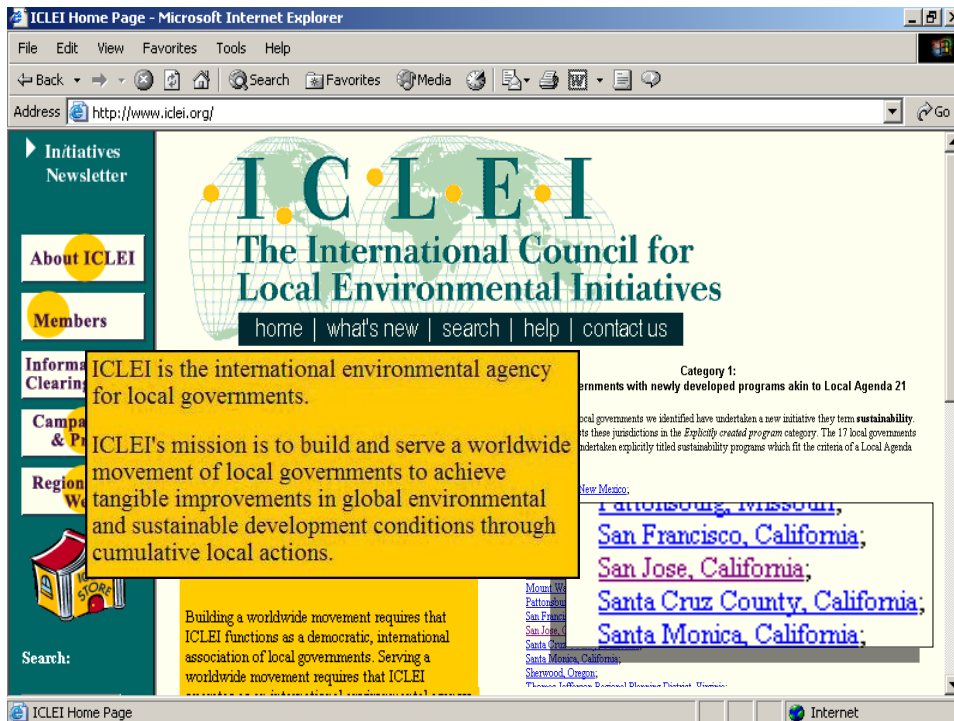

One other major breach of Article 1 Section 8: - The Establishment of Central Banking within a world system of Central Banking – the indispensable ingredient for creating World Government. Congress has no authority to delegate an exclusive monetary system authority to a third party. That is what happens when a Central Bank like the Federal Reserve is formed. This accounts for at least the financial aspect of the dilemma we face.

The existence of Central Banks, like the Federal Reserve, allow for the printing of the money necessary to fund the globalist movement. They are particularly dangerous given that the Central Banks are coordinated on top through the Bank of International Settlements. Remember when American youth were taught that it was a good thing that power was not centralized and coordinated? Oh, I wish it were that way!

It needs to become that way. Restore the American Republic not a 15th Century landscape!

3. Attacking The Root: How does Agenda 21 affect you locally; what you need to know – How to recognize the patterns and values; and what you can do...

a. ICLEI

Full name ...plus “Local Governments for Sustainability” ICLEI, Is an important NGO. Closely ties policy to man-made Global Warming and climate change; has an international Congress filled with your city representatives that act as a shadow world government. Local tax funds pay the contract fee. Globalist policy making is fully invaded upon ICLEI’s arrival. 600 cities nationwide have ICLEI contracts. Each cities influence is expanded as ICLEI then automatically steer Regional Air, and Water Boards, and many other “regional” transformational organizations.

ICLEI HUBS

Presented by FreedomAdvocates.org

Montana ICLEI cities include: Missoula, Helena and Bozeman. Discuss Article 1 section 10 prohibitions: “No state shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance or Confederation” Neither may a city. Ask: Is contracting with ICLEI treasonous – at least in spirit? In any event contracts with ICLEI, guarantee implementation of globalist political and economic policy. Drive city alliance with ICLEI out of Montana!

A recent poll found that over 50% of last year's high school and college graduates identified themselves as 'global citizens', as opposed to American citizens. The National educational system is working for what it is that the system is designed to do – lead America to a loss of our sovereignty and to the end of mankind's political recognition of unalienable rights.

I commit to reducing my own environmental impact and supporting my community in these ways:

ENERGY Get the facts

- Adjust the thermostat by a few degrees
- Always turn off lights and appliances that aren't in use
- Unplug chargers and electronics when they're not in use
- Set energy saving modes and functions as defaults on all appliances
- Use cold or warm water setting on the washing machine
- Switch to compact fluorescent light bulbs (CFLs)

- Consume less!
- Recycle paper, cardboard, #1 and #2 plastics, aluminum and tin
- Reduce food waste
- Always double-side prints and copies
- BYOC- bring your own cup!
- Take reusable bags shopping
- Avoid products with excessive packaging

Note headings re sustainability

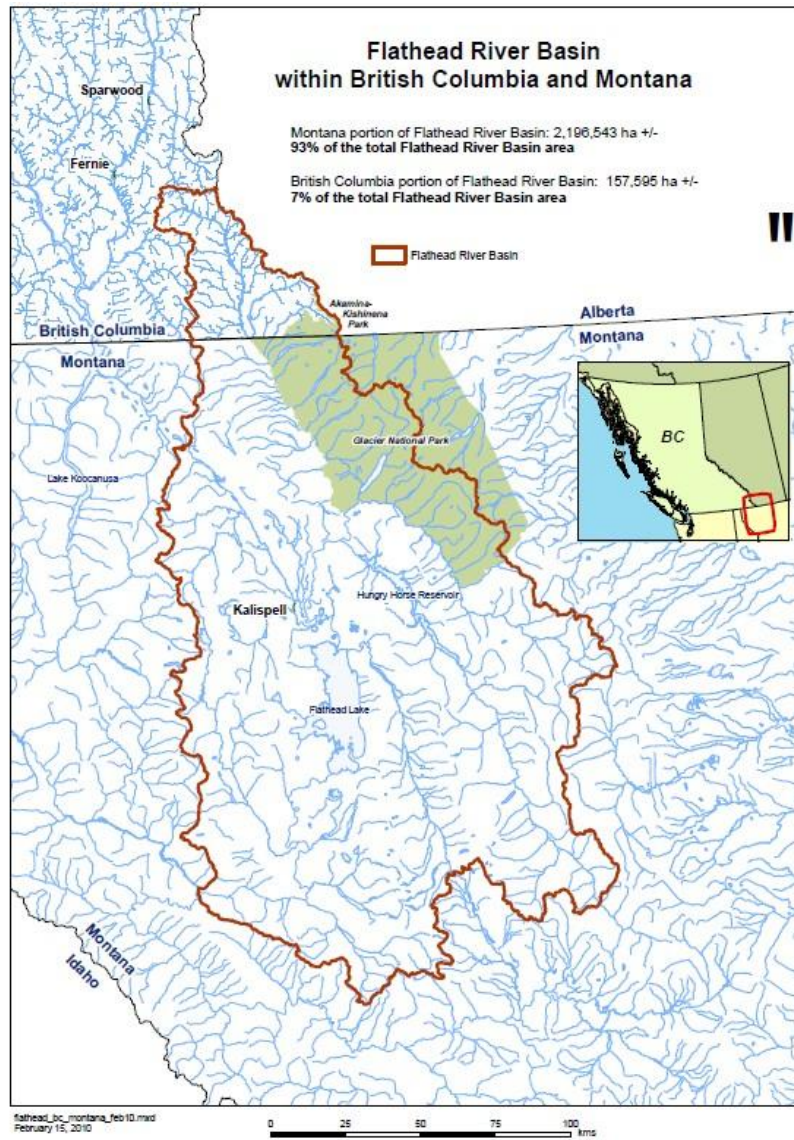

Article 1 Section 10 of the Constitution also prohibits any state from entering “into any agreement or compact with a foreign power unless actually invaded...” This “Partnership” between your state and the nation of Canada agreement is a clear violation of the federal Constitution!

American sovereignty is being stripped as the Constitution lives its way into globalism.

Why does Congress do what is not authorized to do while Congress defaults on what it is that it is supposed to do? What reconciles reality is the understanding that our government is working to break our borders, hamper our economy, and change our systems of justice and economics. This “transnational” compact carries intended consequences to our national sovereignty and with that loss comes the loss of the political recognition of unalienable rights.

This is a map of the transnational region controlled by this transnational agreement:

Schweitzer should rescind this compact. Failing that he ought to be impeached as a traitor!

b. Montana and all of America has been set up as a region to operate within and under a global order.

What happens if people do nothing? America becomes the land of the collected and home of the enslaved.

4. What can you do?

- a. Organize to expose ICLEI – Traitorous? Inform and motivate residents in cities named earlier to take on their city fathers. Counter-action to ICLEI is, I believe, the 21st century ‘shot to be heard round the world’. Let Montana become the model for beginning the restoration of America! Expose ICLEI! Visit Freedom Advocates. Org to study the ICLEI Primer, The Consensus Process and Agenda 21 at our home page.

- b. Know about the Wildlands Network organization. Cause the public to be aware of the goals and actions of the Wildlands Network. Over time, we must cause the globalist concept of the Wildlands Network to be abandoned – consider the alternatives. Montana urgently requires a new political direction with new political majorities. Now is the time.

c. The third thing you can do is to recognize local sovietization.

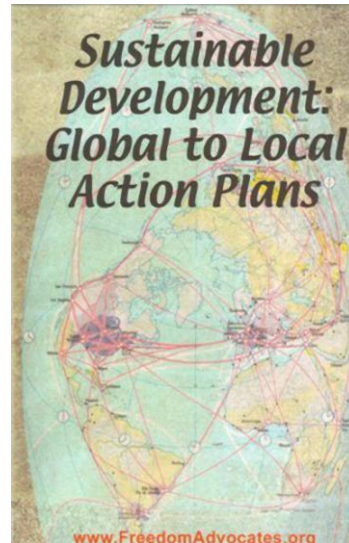

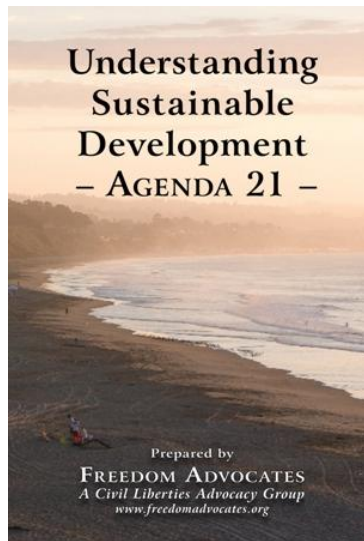

What does “Soviet” mean?

- A soviet is a system of councils that report to an apex council and implement a predetermined outcome, affecting a region or neighborhood often arranged through a process of facilitated consensus.
- Members of a soviet council are chosen by virtue of their willingness to comply with that outcome and their one-mindedness with the group
- Soviets are the operating mechanism of a government-controlled economy, whether it be socialism or public/private partnerships

How to fight back: Boycott or attend local soviet meetings. If you attend, learn how to break the planned consensus meetings operated through “facilitation” with predetermined outcomes. This is a simple study and very effective technique. Information is available at Freedom Advocates.org regarding how a coordinated effort, undertaken by a few people, can break the local manufactured “consensus” that serves globalist objectives.

Neighborhood tools – have been developed to help regular people share the information produced by FA. These have designed for wide distribution for purposes of creating an informed public. Sun Tzu informed us that you cannot defeat your enemy unless you understand him. Distribute Understanding Sustainable Development Agenda 21. Let Common Sense prevail. Use our videos on Community TV, circulate FA audios. Understand Globalism –Agenda 21 Sustainable Development yourself and then widen the circle. Let our tools help you.

Let me show an illustration that captures the contrast between America and Globalism:

e. It is important that you prepare yourself.

My advice for ordinary people, understanding that there can always be exceptions, is:

Have barter

Have access to food, grow it store it or become part of a food collective

Have personal defense
Get out of debt if you can
And Join - in the defense of America!

5. Conclusion

The old expression and bumper sticker, “Think Global Act Local” can now take a meaning. This scheme has been in the works longer than any of us have been alive. George Bernard Shaw, a founding British Fabien Socialist said ‘We will crawl like turtles for as long as it takes. When we see the finish line we will create a buzzing, whirling, confusion as we make our dash through the clearing as we get to the other side.' Ladies and Gentlemen, that is what has begun to happen now.

There is welcome news gathering from within. First the globalists are stumbling all over themselves, the Global Warming scam is crumbling, the fiscal and monetary situations are becoming understood more broadly and the pattern advancing globalism is becoming evident to many people.

For that welcome news to serve the interests of a free society, those who seek freedom must understand what we are fighting against, if we are to defeat it. We must also know what we are fighting for. Only then can we earn a second coming of America, the land of the brave and the home of the free.

Thank you and may God Bless America
