Subject: Montana CSKT Water Compact Alert

I just received the email below and attachments above (both same letter in Word or PDF) from a local Montana rural property owner friend.

The attached is a 3 page letter from Lawrence Kogan, the principal of the Kogan Law Group in New York, N.Y. who has been involved in helping the Montana rural property owners and irrigators especially on the Flathead Reservation, NW Montana with the help of Elaine Willman, MPA. They toured Montana in 2016 I believe making a strong case against the unfairness of the Confederation of Salish & Kootenai Tribes Water Compact deal made with Montana State and the federal government. Elaine is a direct descendant of the Cherokee tribe and her husband is of Shoshone ancestry and direct descendant of Sacajawea. She has authored two books titled "Going to Pieces", The Dismantling of the United States of America as well as "American Tribal Tyranny", how federal Indian policy secretly monies up elected officials forcing American taxpayers to fund all annual operating needs of the BIA and 574 wealthy tribal governments."

You can glance at the background of this case at Section 1 on my site -
<https://freedomforallseasons.org/FreedomFromWaterTakings.htm>

This case has been going on for years and narrowly passed in the Montana House by 6 votes in April 2015.

Mr. Kogan's letter reviews the latest three SCOTUS decisions on several U.S. tribal water cases and outlines their impact in part on Montana Water Court proceedings.

Good morning, All.

The attached is an article I prepared last evening that the senior editor at the Missoulian agreed to publish online. It is also available online at the Billings Gazette, the Helena Independent Record, the Montana Standard in Butte, and the Ravalli Republic in Hamilton.

I added to the last paragraph of last night's version of the article this morning, and the senior editor published the change.

Please share the final article with your neighbors and those who are attending the Water Court hearings, if not, the Judge Brown, himself.

Thanks for your help in getting the word out.

Best,

Larry
